

Australian College of Educators

Debbie Gentle, Mullaway Public School

Debbie is a highly experienced, conscientious educator who has worked in a wide range of roles in education over the past 25 years. Over this time, Deb has committed herself to being a Director of a Pre-school, a Secondary Special Needs teacher assisting students with severe emotional and behavioural challenges and as an irrepressible Primary School teacher. She has taught at many schools including Glenn Innes Public School, Wyaliba Public School, Walgett High School, Yass High School, Woolgoolga High School and her current school Mullaway Public School.

Over her career, Deb has proudly built a reputation amongst peers and the community as being a dynamic, nurturing practitioner who creates quality learning opportunities for all students. Her heightened awareness of, and commitment to, personalised and differentiated learning for every student to succeed is exemplary. Debbie is a worthy recipient of recognition on World Teachers' Day.
