

Australian College of Educators

Greg Armstrong, Southern Cross School K-12 – Distance Education

Greg has led Southern Cross School Distance Education for the past three years. Under his leadership, Outreach Centres have been set up, Aboriginal Programs have grown, staff have engaged in collaborative conversations and process and procedures have been aligned. Greg has led the School Planning, rebadged a new school and ensured that all opportunities for success in learning were achieved by all students. As the largest equity provider for education, Greg has led with transparency, engagement and collaboration to support all students across our region of 22,000 square kilometres with over two hundred staff. He leaves no one behind. Greg is a worthy recipient of recognition on World Teachers' Day.