Jessamin Frank, Casuarina Steiner School

Jessamin has been at the Casuarina Steiner School for the last seven years as a string teacher and more recently as our music teacher. Jess has developed the string program from humble beginnings to a flourishing and inspiring level. She is not only an inspiring teacher but a musician the children can look up to. Through her work and inspiration students now have access to a strong string program and the school's ensemble. Jess was instrumental in initiating and coordinating the annual string camps which is now in its fourth year where 63 students from four regional Steiner schools attended the camp. We congratulate Jess on her outstanding achievements. Jessamin is a worthy recipient of recognition on World Teachers' Day.
