

Australian College of Educators

Teresa Carapeto, Southern Cross University

Teresa recently graduated from the Bachelor of Secondary Education majoring in history education and is a highly passionate teacher and is presently teaching at a local Steiner school while undertaking her Bachelor of Education (Honours) degree. Teresa's research focusses on history education and sustainability in the context of Indian medieval history. This is highly original research through a transdisciplinary focus on history, sustainability and Indian mediaeval history. As part of her Honours Teresa travelled to India earlier this year to pursue her research and is now in the final stages of writing up her thesis. Teresa is an outstanding teacher and researcher, and is making a substantial contribution to the profession of education. Teresa is a worthy recipient of recognition on World Teachers' Day.
