

ACE MEMBERSHIP

ACE is the longest serving and most prestigious professional association for Educators throughout Australia. ACE is committed to representing the education profession and providing valuable services and support to all educators across all sectors, systems, subjects and levels. Membership applications are assessed against a number of criteria including service to the education profession and ability and willingness to actively contribute to ACE.

Involvement in the Education Profession

Professional Registration and Qualifications

Education sectors include early childhood, primary, secondary, tertiary, vocational education and training and adult education. The registration and/or accreditation requirements for each of these sectors varies depending on which sector you work in and the state or territory in which you practice. Applicants are required to provide evidence of relevant professional education registration and/or accreditation specific to their sector and geographical location.

Formal qualifications held that have been awarded by a recognised education and/or training institution. Required information includes the name of the qualification (for example Bachelor of Education), the issuing university, education or training entity and the year in which the qualification was conferred.

Evidence may include:

- Early Childhood: Teacher registration details and/or accreditation depending on the State of employment. If employed in a State or Territory that does not require registration, evidence of approved National Quality Framework (NQF) qualifications for centre based services with pre-school aged children or under are required. For further information, please refer to the NQF website HERE
- Primary and Secondary: Teacher registration number including State/Territory where registration is held and year in which registration was attained;
- Vocational Education and Training and Adult Education: relevant qualifications as specified by the Australian Skills Quality Authority (ASQA) under the Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015;
- Tertiary Educators: current employment details including employer and position.

Professional Standing

Certifications

Certifications may include those awarded by Government agencies such as Lead or Highly Accomplished Teacher for those working in school based settings. Certifications from other organisations such as the Certified Practising Principal or Certified Higher Education Professional as well as non-education specific certifications (for example from the Australian Institute of Company Directors - AICD).

Awards and Achievements

These can relate to professional and personal achievements including those in the workplace. Possible inclusions for this criteria including article publications, research, appointments to committees, boards, working groups, advisory panels, Australia Day honours.

Referees

A minimum of one referee is required with preference being given to referees who are ACE members. Referees may be both professional and personal.

Professional Contribution

Professional Memberships

This is the opportunity to highlight other professional groups, associations or organisations that you are an active member of. These memberships do not have to be directly related to education but rather highlight your active involvement with and dedication to belonging to a variety of groups.

Contribution to ACE

Being a member of ACE is more than receiving benefits and utilising post-nominals. Membership to ACE requires active involvement in and contribution to help the College achieve our goals and objectives.
